CHG Participates in "Take Your Dog to Work Day"
"Pooch Parade" celebrates pet insurance, employee appreciation

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (June 19, 2008) – When CHG Healthcare Services participates in national "Take Your Dog to Work Day" on Friday, June 20, it will celebrate both the new pet insurance benefit available to its employees and CHG's Employee Appreciation Week.

CHG employees will have the opportunity to showcase their four-legged dependents in an outdoor puppy parade from 3-4 p.m. Owners whose dogs win in the CHG Pride, movie star look-alike, CHG leader look-alike or Best in Show categories will receive prizes for their canines, including three months of free pet insurance coverage and gift cards to pet supply stores.

Pet insurance is the newest employee benefit offered at CHG. The plan is designed to help offset veterinary bills incurred during the normal course of a pet's life and will cover medical problems and conditions related to accidental injuries, poisonings and illnesses. It will help pet owners pay for services to keep their pets healthy, including routine veterinary office visits, x-rays, prescriptions and surgical procedures.

"Implementing new benefits like pet insurance shows that we listen to and care about our employees," said Mike Weinholtz, President and CEO of CHG. "The foundation of this company is based on putting our people first."

The pet coverage is a result of company-wide feedback from employees and part of the CHG's focus on overall wellness. Many employees are grateful to have a program that helps them cope with the costs of their pet's healthcare.

"I have very active dogs that are constantly getting hurt," said Britney Henline, account coordinator at CHG. "Having pet insurance will help me pay for their medical bills and keep them current on all their check-ups and vaccinations."

The "pooch parade" marks the finale of Employee Appreciation events in several CHG offices across the country. Throughout the week employees in the Salt Lake City office will enjoy free massages, a wellness fair, a Nintendo Wii competition, and an employee breakfast featuring guest speaker and former Utah Jazz star, Mark Eaton. Employees are also eligible throughout the week for numerous prize drawings and giveaways.

Daily events for CHG Employee Appreciation Week in Salt Lake City:

- Monday
TV Break: Employees will have the option to watch a 20-25 minute TV show throughout the day while they enjoy popcorn & refreshments.
- Tuesday
Wellness Fair: Employees can visit various wellness vendors to receive onsite tests/screenings for blood pressure, cholesterol, body fat, vision, grip strength and more.
- Wednesday
Nintendo Wii competition: Employees compete against each other in various games to win prizes.
- Thursday
Free massages: Employees can put their deadlines and quotas on hold for a few minutes while they enjoy the skills of onsite massage therapists.
- Friday
Employee Breakfast & Speaker: CHG leaders will serve a pancake breakfast to all employees. After breakfast, Mark Eaton will share a high energy & insightful presentation on how he rose from auto mechanic to NBA All-Star.
Pooch Parade: Employees show off their canines to win prizes.
